Blame Robbers For $5,000 Blaze In Warehouse Last Night

Think Robbers Started Fire In Warehouse

$5,500 Loss Sustained In Blaze At South Side Merchants Storage Rooms Sunday Eve

OLD KNITTING MILL IS SCENE OF BLAZE

Find Evidence That Place Had Been Broken Into After Fire Is Extinguished

Fire which is believed to have been started by robbers in the warehouse of the South Side Merchants Union, Inc., in the old Knitting Mill property at the corner of South Mill and White streets, caused damage estimated at $5,500 Sunday evening.

Actual fire damage was small, but smoke and water ruined a great portion of the stock, directors of the organization placing a loss of $5,500 on the contents after surveying the damage this morning, manager Frank W. Hill stated.

Fire Discovered

The blaze was discovered around 9 o'clock, by a resident of Pearson street, who called the Central Department and told Fireman George Harper, that smoke was coming from the building and he could see a blaze.

PA NEW OBSERVES

One of the members of the Pa Newc family was quite surprised yesterday at the Cleveland airport when Miss Amelia Earhart, one of the intrepid women fliers to cross the Atlantic ocean, zoomed down out of the skies and made a perfect landing. She was flying a special built Lockheed Vega plane. She was on her way to Chicago from Boston and stopped at Cleveland over-night. Quite a little excitement prevailed among the thousands of visitors at the airport, but the police handled the crowd very nicely, and Amelia made her way to the hangar and then took a taxi to the city.

About the next step that will be needed on state highway routes in this county will be widening of the highway from Walmo to New Wilmington. This route, probably the most travelled in the county, is the narrowest. It was the first one built and was constructed on what was thought at that time to be the proper plan. But every day it becomes apparent that a wider road is needed for safety in travel, at the speed which cars travel nowadays.

Wonder what has happened to the project to use the right of way of the Sharpsville railway from New Wilmington to Sharpsville as a highway.

Pa Newc noticed trees alongside the New Castle-Youngstown road, Sunday afternoon, that had many leaves on them which had turned color. It won't be very long until the leaves begin flying off. Then summer is gone for sure.

A comical sight was the sheepish looks on the faces of a small crowd of people gathered around an automobile on display at the corner of Washington and Mercer streets, Saturday evening. A short circuit had been made on the car so that anyone (Continued On Page Two)

Interest Of World Is Centered On Diary Found With Explorers

Faded Record Of Andree Expedition To North In Balloon May Be Filed

Fear It May Be Kept Secret By Swedish Government—Notable Document

(International News Service)
COPENHAGEN, Aug. 25.—The interest and curiosity of a thrilled world was focused today on a few brittle sheets of paper that formed the diary of ill-starred Salomon Auguste Andree and his two companions, courageous martyrs of exploration who perished in 1897 after making a gallant attempt to cross the top of the world in a balloon.

As the sailing vessel Brattvaag, carrying the bodies of the polar trio as well as Dr. Gunnar Horn and his party of explorers who made the discovery, fought its way through fast freezing seas in the hope of reaching Norway before the end of the month, a waiting world speculated on the future ownership of the all-important diary.

May Be Kept Secret

Dr. Horn, it was believed in some circles, has contemplated delivering to the Swedish government the little record of momentous events and adventures in the far north as a painful memento of the Swedish explorer who ended his sufferings. In that event, there is the dismal probability that the fascinating account may be locked away in the mysterious and secret files alongside other government documents, depriving an avidly interested generation of perhaps the richest story of adventurous life and death in the grim icefields.

An inkling of the luscious store of what the little diary has to offer all (Continued On Page Two)

German Fliers Will Continue To New York

Four Intrepid German Air-men Study Weather Maps After Ocean Crossing

BLIND FLYING IS DANGEROUS

Mystery Surrounds Flight Of German Craft Which Lands In Nova Scotia

(International News Service)
HALIFAX, N. S., Aug. 25.—Four intrepid German fliers studied their weather maps and traced the rolling fog-bank for an opportunity to complete their trans-Atlantic trip to New York.

Commanded by Captain Wolfgang von Gronau, the Dornier-Wal flying boat D-1422 landed at Queensport, N. S., Sunday after battling its way from Greenland through storms and fog, landing 130 miles away from Halifax more or less as precautionary measure. The charts of the fliers failed to give the details of the route to this city, heavy fog endangering "blind" flying.

Von Gronau, mysterious and as reticent about his plans as the day he left Germany on a supposed practice cruise to the Orkneys, modestly admitted his intentions of continuing to Halifax to refuel for the final hop to New York.

High Graduates Going To College

Eighty Seven From 1930 Classes To Continue Training This Fall

MANY SCHOOLS TO GET LOCAL STUDENTS

Universities and other higher institutions of learning the country over will beckon a large percentage of this year's graduates of the New Castle senior high school this fall, it is revealed in a survey just compiled by the school office, and announced by Principal F. L. Orth today.

Out of the 366 students who completed their high school courses either with the June or January class, a total of 87 have definitely signified that they will enter some college or training institution during September. According to Mr. Orth, the number going away is probably better than normal.

This should be a good year for the colleges, I would say, for there are certain students who will return to school if they fail to find a job," said the principal. "On the other hand it takes money to go to school, and this may keep some out."

Conspicuous on this year's list are the names of many hospitals, which nearly a score or more of prospective nurses will enter to begin their training. State teachers' colleges also will (Continued On Page Seven)

Commissioner In Calcutta Escapes As Bomb Is Thrown

British Police Commissioner Sir Charles Tegart, Has Narrow Escape

(International News Service)
LONDON, Aug. 25.—A bomb intended for Sir Charles Tegart, police commissioner of Calcutta, today injured the official's chauffeur as it exploded in a busy street through which the British car was picking its way, according to London evening newspapers.

Sir Charles escaped without a scratch, immediately rushing his injured chauffeur to the nearest medical station. It was believed that nationalist malcontents, disgruntled over the numerous arrests of their independence campaign leaders, hurled the bomb as both a warning and revenge against the police head.

A premature explosion of the bomb killed one of the assassins, while the other one was captured after a wild chase in which Sir Arthur assisted.

Cleveland Youth Killed In Hold-Up Of Party Guests

Five Robbers Attempt To Loot Party Attended By Forty Guests

(International News Service)
CLEVELAND, Aug. 25.—Miller Wilkinson, 23, of Cleveland Heights, a senior at Princeton University, was shot and killed and two gunmen were wounded in a gun battle here today when five robbers, armed with pistols and rifles, attempted to hold-up guests at a party held at the home of Ray S. Dunham, realtor, in Cleveland Heights.

Wilkinson, shot in the forehead with a bullet from a 45.70 rifle, died a short time after the gun battle in St. Luke's hospital.

The robbers who were the victims of bullets fired by police who arrived on the scene during a pitched battle between the guests and the holdup men, were Angelo Bell, 20, and his brother, Mike, 16, both of Cleveland, according to police. Angelo was shot in the right leg and Mike in the right arm.

Grapple With Thugs

Wilkinson was one of the 40 guests at the party being held by Donald Dunham. The robbers entered the house through the front door but were backed out on the front porch by the young men at the party who refused to submit to their demands.

Catching one of the robbers off-guard, Wilkinson is said to have grabbed him and the pair fell to the ground. At the same time other men grabbed the four remaining robbers and a free-for-all ensued. Police, who had been called by a neighbor, arrived a short time later and opened fire on the robbers who also began shooting. In the exchange of fire, Wilkinson was shot.

A search for three of the robbers who managed to escape in a waiting automobile, was immediately begun by police. Two youths who were arrested near the scene of the shooting by a police radio squad are being held for questioning in connection with Wilkinson's death.

Military Officers Replace Civilian Cabinet In Peru

President Augusto B. Leguia Seeks Aid Of Military Men In Quieting Rebellion

(International News Service)
LIMA, Aug. 25.—The appointment of a cabinet composed entirely of military officers to replace the civilian cabinet which reigned last night was reported today from circles close to the presidential palace.

The "cavalry cabinet" chosen by President Augusto B. Leguia to assist him in dealing with the insurrectionists which hold much of the south of Peru under their control, placed the whole of Peru virtually under military rule.

The new cabinet included Manuel Ponce, Julio Goicochea, Eulogio Castillo, Arturo Zapata, Ricardo Lloña and Eduardo Castro.

President Leguia was expected to appear before Congress today to present that body with the resignation of the civilian cabinet and the names of his new governing body.

HOLD-UP AT VOLANT GET $1000

Armed Men Hold Up Cashier And Secure About $1,000

(BULLETIN 2 P. M.)

Two armed men entered the First National Bank of Volant, about 1:45 o'clock this afternoon, held up Philip Cox, cashier, at the point of a gun, locked him in a vault, and then scooped up what money they could gather quickly and made their escape.

Mr. Cox, cashier, had just returned from lunch, when he was accosted by the pair, with drawn revolvers, backed into the vault, and locked up, while they seized the money they could lay their hands on, and made their escape.

Mr. Cox said that they probably secured somewhere in the neighborhood of $1,000 not any more.

One of the men was a young fellow and the other was an older man. According to report received by the New Castle police, the car used by the bandits was carrying a West Virginia license, and was a Ford sedan.

Officers immediately started for the scene.

Indiana Posses Scour Woods For Fiend And Girl

All-Night Search Fails To Reveal Trail Of Fiend Who Kidnaps Small Girl

Note Left By Kidnapper For Father Of Girl Threatens Death If Pursued

(International News Service)
VALPARAISO, Ind., Aug. 25.—Additional searchers were enlisted today to join armed possesmen who scoured the Kankakee River bottoms in an all night hunt for 10-year old Betty Jane Foster and a demented farm hand who abducted the child from her father's farm Saturday night.

Spurring the men on was a threat contained in a warning note to the girl's wealthy father, Ernest Foster, that any attempt to capture the kidnapper would result in the child's death. The volunteer citizens and sheriff's deputies were striving to find the two before the abductor could make good his threat. One hundred farmers were aiding in the search.

Laborer Is Fiend

The note was signed by Claude Dillner, 27 year old farm laborer who has worked in the vicinity for several years.

The kidnapping occurred in front of the Foster home while the child's parents were inside. A man identified as Dillner induced Betty Jane and her brother and sister to accompany him in his buttoned coupe to a neighboring town. Driving back to the Foster home the farm hand pushed the other two children out of the car and sped away with the ten year old girl.

Pursuing out to his automobile to begin pursuit, the father found a note, evidently placed there when the kidnapper stopped on his return with the three children.

"I've got Betty Jane now and I'm going away," the note read. "If you set the sheriff on my trail I'll kill her."

The child's father headed one of the posses.

End Daylight Savings Sunday

Citizens Will Go Back On Old Time Here Starting Next Sunday Morning

Daylight Savings Time will officially end in New Castle on Sunday morning, August 31.

Under an agreement entered into between the merchants of the city and the industrial leaders, last spring, the period for observing Daylight Savings time, was fixed at during the months of June, July and August.

This was done in order that there would be as little confusion as possible, especially in regard to the school system, where the new time conflicted with the school policy of remaining on Eastern Standard time.

The observance of Daylight Savings time by the public during the three summer months has been most satisfactory, and will probably be continued again next summer.

Appeal for a new trial for Mrs. Irene Schroeder and W. Glenn Dague, sentenced to death for the murder of Corporal Brady Paul, was filed in the Supreme court of Pennsylvania at Pittsburgh, today by Attorney Thomas W. Dickey. Basis of the appeal is similar to that in the appeal for a new trial before Lawrence county court recently.

Following the receipt of the papers filed today an order will be issued by the Supreme court directing prothonotary R. M. Campbell of the local court to forward the papers to the supreme court for review.

The supreme court convenes at Pittsburgh on September 29th. Attorney Dickey stated this morning that the case will not likely come up for argument before sometime in October.

Jilted Youth Runs Amuck

Shoots And Kills Two Officers And Dies Of Bullet Wounds

"DIDN'T CARE" AFTER JILTING, HE DECLARED

(International News Service)
EMO, Ont., Aug. 25.—Jilted by his sweetheart, Emerick Fennette, 20, of Fort Francis, Ont., embarked on a short-lived but sensational career of crime, during which he held up a crack passenger train, murdered two United States immigration inspectors and then lost his own life early today as the result of a wound suffered in a gun battle with officers.

In a death-bed confession, Fennette, who hitherto had been known as a model youth, said his brief, but bloody, fling at crime followed a misunderstanding with his sweetheart, whom he did not name. Police are searching for the girl for questioning.

"After that nothing mattered," Fennette, his body wracked with the pain of his wound, said. "I wanted to get (Continued On Page Two)

Alleged Robber Killed By Fall

Robber Misses Footing In Pittsburgh And Plunges To Death 60 Feet

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Aug. 25.—His daring leap across a four-foot canyon between two buildings falling short, an alleged robber identified as Benjamin F. Wickline, 30, was killed instantly today in a 60-foot fall to a cement walk.

A second floor window of the William Zoller Company Packing plant had been broken, according to police. Authorities believed Wickline entered the building through the second floor window by jumping from an adjoining hillside, made his way to the fourth floor and there broke a window leading to the roof.

The man's shoes were found in front of a nearby building.

Make Ready To Re-open Schools

Eleven Thousand Pupils To Return To Classes On September 8

TEACHERS MEETING ON NEXT SATURDAY

When New Castle elementary, junior and senior high schools open their doors again a week from next Monday 11,000 students will be admitted to classes, Dr. Clyde C. Green, Superintendent of Schools said today. Approximately 370 instructors will resume teaching. Three thousand students will enter the two junior high schools, while approximately 1,600 will attend Senior High School.

In a statement from his office in the Board of Education, Dr. Green asked for co-operation with the school system. He said: "With the many distractions which now claim the attention of both adults and children during the school term, it is highly important that constant attention be given to scholarship and the traditional purpose of education."

The first general teachers' meeting which will inaugurate the school season, will be held in the Senior High School, Saturday September 6 at 9 a. m. In addition to the usual announcements and conferences of the school superintendent with principals and teachers, a prominent speaker, probably Dean W. G. Chambers of Pennsylvania State College, will address the gathering.

Dr. Green said that during the coming school year, special attention will be directed to the supervision of instruction in the various schools of the New Castle system. The superintendent will hold a series of conferences with principals to consider the technique of supervision of instruction.

When students return to their classes on September 8 they will find that the school buildings have attained a new appearance. Dr. Green said that every building of the system has been improved by repairs, painting and numerous improvements. In many instances entire buildings have been redecorated from the bottom to the top floor.

The New Castle schools function on the 6-3-3 plan, which means that the schools' elementary grades admit pupils to the sixth grade, junior high schools include the seventh, eighth and ninth grades and the Senior High, the final grades, 10th, 11th and 12th.

Schools here are also organized on the platoon or work-study-play method of instruction. According to Dr. Green, the first city to try this method was Gary, Ind. Under various modifications this system has been extended to all states of the Union. New Castle is the fourth city in the country to try the platoon plan. Here it was tried first in the Oak street elementary school. Within recent years the platoon organization has been extended to all schools of New Castle.

You're the JUDGE

The reputation of Jones for paying his debts was not good. Anyway, Jones owned Smith some money and Smith wasn't having much luck in getting it back. Smith, therefore, went to court and got out a judgment against Jones for the amount due.

Both Jones and Smith had an old acquaintance in Jim Brown and here Jim Brown entered into the matter and interceded on behalf of Jones. He brought about this compromise. If Smith would forbear from seeking the execution of the judgment against Jones, he, Jim Brown, would pay Smith the money on request. Provided Smith would assign the judgment to him-to Brown.

Smith agreed and after a little while he asked Brown for the money. But Brown said, "You haven't yet assigned the judgment to me." And so they see-sawed back and forth until Smith, entirely out of patience, filed suit against Brown.

How would you decide this case. Make up your mind before you read the decision. (Answer will be found on Classified Page.)

PA NEW OBSERVES

To the parents of New Castle's school children goes a bit of timely advice—have all the vaccinations over with before September 8. County Medical Director Harper explains that all must have certificates by that date.

Pa New toured the Perry highway to Pittsburgh Sunday and so did all the rest, it seemed. But when here and Pittsburgh the road was thronged with cars. The newest section between the Butler road and Mercer was literally packed, according to reports.

We have just learned to what extent the post office authorities will have mail pilots go to make the service as perfect as possible. Planes that hover above Bradford field to drop or pick up a bag of mail execute their work every day. They must always pickup or drop a bag—even when there is no mail to be sent via the air. Thus it happens quite often that a plane will pick up a dummy bag from the field. Maybe it is to give the pilot some practice.

Rains of the past few days have had some effect upon burned out lawns around the city, it appears. Many of them are taking on a tinge of green again.

Now is the time for the reports of large vegetables and other garden products to be coming in and this morning Mrs. J. R. Boyd of Harrison street reported she has a tomato in her garden measuring 15 inches around and weighing a pound and a half. Any more large tomatoes about the city?

Although the Perry highway has been opened there are still several small dirt detours. In the vicinity of Harlansburg the detours are slippery due to clay and recent rains on the new macadam. Automobiles should be very careful passing the junction of the Perry highway and Slippery Rock road.

Three arrests by Pennsylvania Highway patrolmen in different sections of Lawrence county yesterday shows that the highway patrolmen are riding all of the state roads and maintaining an alert eye for violations of the state motor laws. There are three State Highway patrolmen stationed here.

Secretary Davis Quits Activity Of Moose Order

Secretary James J. Davis Quits Moose Officialdom After 23 Years Service

(International News Service) SHARON, Pa., Aug. 25.—Secretary of Labor James J. Davis was enroute to Washington, today, no longer an active official of the Loyal Order of Moose lodge.

The cabinet officer submitted his resignation, climaxing 23 years of active leadership, at the semi-annual meeting of the Moose officials here last night. His status in the organization in the future will be as a member of the endowment fund committee. He also will continue as chairman of the board of governors of Mooseheart, national home of the order.

"I want to see the lodge continue to grow while I am alive and I feel that I do not have the time to give to the work," Secretary Davis said. "We have placed men in the key places of the order so that everything will function properly."

Joseph A. Jenkins, of Pittsburgh, who has been secretary to Davis in Moose activities, has been elected to the post as director of organization of the lodge and Fred Jones, also of Pittsburgh, is to be secretary of the endowment fund.

THINK ROBBERS STARTED FIRE IN WAREHOUSE

(Continued On Page Two) the equipment from Central department and No. 4 and No. 5, who succeeded in bringing the blaze under control. However, smoke and water ruined a great quantity of food products, such as flour, gelatines, etc.

Manager Frank W. Hill stated this morning that the place has been broken into on several occasions of late, and after the fire last night, evidence was discovered that someone had been in the building during the afternoon or evening, as a number of cases containing extracts were broken open. It is believed that the robbers were after this.

Saw Light in Building Manager Hill had been in the building at noon and found everything all right. It was stated last evening that a youth residing in the neighborhood had seen a light in the building late in the afternoon, and it is possible that the intruders may have dropped a match into something that smoldered and broke into flames.

Most of the fire was confined to the rear of the building near the loading platform on the first floor. The structure, a three-story building, the second floor being used as a storage room by the old Brown-Hamilton Co., while the third floor is unoccupied.

Firemen were bothered considerably by traffic, many machines driving right up to the scene of the fire.

Convicted Robbers Work Both Fire Chief Lynn and Manager Hill of the grocers' association are firmly convinced that robbers set fire to the place, as a further investigation revealed a quantity of stuff had been carried out of the building and hidden close by.

When Fire Chief Lynn and Lieut. George Harper arrived on the scene of the fire, Harper noticed two men hurrying away from the place, and believes that he recognized one of them. He also believes he heard one of the men say, "Come on Bill, let's get out of here."

Police are working on the clues given them and expect to make arrests during the day.

Officers of the grocers' association expressed their thanks for the efficient way in which the firemen under Chief Lynn handled the situation at the fire last night. They had the blaze under control in quick order and used as little water as possible in fighting the blaze.

O. H. P. Brown, who is owner of the material stored on the second floor of the building stated this morning, that their stock suffered no damage as it would not be harmed by smoke, and no fire got into that part of the building.

The loss on the building was placed at around $500 by Fire Chief Lynn this morning.

STAR LORE WHEN THE ATMOSPHERE REVEALS ITS WEIGHT

By Arthur Dev. Carpenter. The atmosphere is the outermost of four spheres—barosphere, lithosphere, hydrosphere and atmosphere. The atmosphere does not remind us of its weight when at rest. When in motion its weight may uproot trees, wreck buildings, toss angrily the waters of the sea. As air at sea level sustains a column of mercury an inch square and 30 inches high, and this amount of mercury weighs 14.7 pounds, it follows that the overlying air in a column one inch square weighs 14.7 pounds. By going above the water level 3.5 miles, the mercurial barometer drops to 15 inches, thus showing that half the atmosphere is below the 3.5 mile altitude.

IRENE AND DAGUE CARRY BATTLE TO SUPREME COURT

Ben Jarrett of Farrell and Kedgewin Powell of Youngstown to have prepared and forward to the supreme court, what is known as a paper book in each case.

In these paper books will be printed the entire proceedings of the trials in the Lawrence county court. The proceedings were taken down in shorthand at the time of the trial. They were then transcribed on a typewriter. The testimony, as written out on the typewriter, makes several huge books.

It is necessary to have all this type written testimony printed in book form before it can be received by judges of the Supreme court. The question which the supreme court is to determine is whether or not the defendants are entitled to a new trial.

Appeal Refused Here

Following their conviction in the local courts an application was made for new trials. In these applications it was alleged that certain testimony had been admitted which should have been excluded, and certain testimony was excluded which should have been admitted.

The points involved in the petitions were argued before Judge Hildebrand, who refused the applications for new trials, and passed the death sentence on the prisoners. This was in accordance with the verdict of the jury, which recommended the death penalty.

The next step of the defendants' attorneys was to appeal the case to the supreme court. The supreme court can grant the appeal and order a new trial, or it can refuse the appeal, which means that the death sentence will be carried out, unless some action should be taken by the pardon board. The pardon board is the last resort.

There will be a heavy expense in the preparation of the paper books for the supreme court. Provision has been made for this expense, although it has not been announced from what source the money is coming.

INTEREST OF WORLD IS CENTERED ON DIARY OF EXPLORERS

"18th July, 1897, 83 degrees north 32 degrees east."

That bare entry unfolded to its discoverers, a story in itself, a long story that took months to live, months filled with hopes, adventure, suffering, despair and finally perceptible death knocking the last life from the frozen vast and endless expanse of ice and snow, beckoning to them one by one.

The position on the page would have placed the death party at about 117 nautical miles due west of the camp where they eventually perished, their bodies and equipment to be preserved nearly intact for thirty-three long years.

Andree Lost To Die Apparently, within a week after soaring aloft from Dances Island in Spitzbergen, in an oval-shaped winged gasbag, Andree and his companions landed safely on the icefields and began a 117-mile trek, dragging their huge supply of food and campaign equipment after them on sleds.

From deductions of the spot on White Island where Dr. Horn found the bodies, it was assumed the north pole aspirants finally met a body of open water too formidable to be braved in their collapsible boat and realized suddenly that theirs was a question of rescue by friends or death in the far north. They established their camp, ate polar bear meat, and one by one succumbed to cold and starvation. Andree it appeared, was last to die.

Ridiculed and jeered by a jesting world when they set out on their adventure 33 years ago, their bodies will be brought back to receive the homage of a more sympathetic universe.

"Love Among the Millionaires" is one of the most enjoyable pictures Clara Bow has ever made, and Clara really gets a chance to sing. Those who heard the "It" voice in "Paramount on Parade" and "True to the Navy" will want to hear the Redhead sing "Believe It or Not," "That's Worth While Waiting For," "Love Among the Millionaires" and "Rarin' to Go." Clara sings with her voice, her eyes, her red hair, her whole body. She handles a song like she handles a man, with pep, personality and enthusiasm.

Clara Bow has discovered that love is just as exciting among the millionaires as it is with ordinary folk, and the "It" personality is at its finest in the sparkling, comedy-full musical romance, "Love Among the Millionaires," showing at the Penn theatre for three days, starting today.

Amid the clatter of dishes and the blaring tones of a nickel-in-the-slot piano, "Love Among the Millionaires" gets underway. Clara sings a song, "Believe It or Not, I've Found My Man." That's where Stanley Smith comes in and transports the Redhead to a fairy paradise of the wealthy at Palm Beach. But, even then, everything refuses to run smoothly.

Crime Never Pays

THE CROWDED FUTURE

INDUSTRIAL chemists predict that at the present rate of population increase, in another 500 years there will be only a square yard of earth apiece for the human inhabitants of this globe.

The chemists are confident, however, that by that time they will have such control of nature that each person's square yard will be farm enough to produce the food he needs. That is comforting news for those who have confidence in the science of chemistry and whose first thought is of the stomach.

But how about room for exercise? The athlete of that day will have to learn to skip rope and golf will be played in a saucer. Football and baseball would not be seriously affected for they now crowd a sufficient part of the population into inadequate stands to clear enough square yards for the game.

There are some people who have been under the impression that the square-yard era has been with us for at least ten years. Another who has entertained the same false idea is the Sunday afternoon and holiday motorist. The bargain-day shopper makes it a threesome.

Happily, birth rates have a way of collapsing under their own weight before the sardine stage in population is quite reached. Don't worry too much!

COMMISSIONS

Congressman Rankin, of Mississippi, who has felt the sting of a Hoover veto, says this country is suffering most from too many commissions, that commissions and bureaus are ruining it.

This criticism and the many others like it from this and other sources are answered by the president by stating the simple fact that the Hoover commissions were outnumbered by the Roosevelt, Wilson and Coolidge commissions, but the nation still lives.

Mr. Hoover has just proved the groundlessness of fears that his commissions would tend to become permanent drains on the public treasury by disbanding five of them immediately upon being notified that they had discharged their functions.

Twenty other Hoover commissions remain to be heard from, but the success of the five which have already quit work is evidence that commissions can and do serve a valuable purpose in our system of government. And it has likewise been demonstrated that President Hoover does not approve of the tendency, so apparent in the past, to continue commissions after they have outlived their usefulness.

Investigation might show that commissions have kept more unwise and ineffectual laws off the statute books than they have placed there, and more than that the American people cannot and will not ask. Moreover, commissions have proved highly successful as boards of arbitration between groups that can be reconciled and placated in no other way.

ONE OF THE 64

We know all about the fifty-seven varieties of pickles and other condiments, but the existence of sixty-four men who rule the country is the exclusive discovery of Mr. James W. Gerard, former Ambassador to Germany. Why he fixed upon a particular number is difficult to understand; in fact, he began with fifty-nine and then added more names; and further belated examples may yet be forthcoming. He might have made it a hundred, at least, following the example of the makers of lists of the "best" books. The men he has chosen are eminent and influential, each in his own way. But we doubt if any of them would claim the power he imputes to them. "They themselves," he says, "are too busy to hold political office, but they determine who shall hold such office."

Do they, indeed? If this were so, America would be controlled by a sort of invisible oligarchy. The President of the United States is not on Mr. Gerard's list, nor any governor or senator. Are they, then, mere puppets with only the semblance of power? It is hard to think of sixty-four, or 164, men directing the actions of Borah or Norris or H. Johnson, who are not even broken to party harness. Nor is the holding of office easily determined by any group of private citizens, however powerful, as many candidates have reason to know. It is the easiest thing in the world for a demagogue to excite suspicion by merely naming a great financial magnate.

Mr. Gerard, who has been a skillful politician in his time, can hardly expect his pronouncement to be taken seriously. He is probably just amusing himself—and the rest of us.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Another Girl.
Alcohol, Work, Love.
Marriage Is Education.
Chicago's Air Week.

The Duchess of York has a second baby girl, no son. Between that baby, with its little head shaking, eyes that cannot yet see, trying to get used to new surroundings, and the British throne, there are only three lives.

A violent storm raged around Glamis Castle as the little girl came into the world. There may be worse storms raging around that and other castles when she goes out. No one knows in what direction civilization is headed.

The British, doubtless also the mother, father and royal grandpapa, wished for a boy. It is not a sound wish, for since Henry the Eighth the only two British royalties that really amounted to much in themselves were women.

Elizabeth established power in government, and Victoria established good morals in government and selected advisers that made her empire respected.

There comes a dreadful surprise, after all our efforts to be good, helped by the Anti-Saloon League, Y. W. C. A. and so many other "virtue" organizations.

Dr. Eugene L. Fisk, specialist in health and vice president of the Life Extension Institute, sails for Europe leaving this message:

"Man has three outlets for his energies, alcoholic intoxication, love and work."
And says Dr. Fisk, "It is not a bad idea to mix the three about evenly."

To be good, according to this observer, puts too much of a strain on man's nature. He quotes a philosopher who says that a wave of barbarism sweeping over civilization every five hundred years is a good thing, as it wipes out "complexes."

This will shock those who with strength of will have practiced vegetarianism, teetotalism, asceticism and other inhibitions.

Miss Fanny Hurst, brilliant young creature, who once announced that she did not live with her husband all the time and took breakfast with him only occasionally, now discovers that marriages "are not made in heaven."

Marriage, says she, is a business arrangement and should be considered as such. However, genius is rarely if ever sound on the marriage question, and this young lady is a genius.

Marriage is not in the least a matter of business, it is a matter of education.

CONSULTING THE DOCTOR

Some friend of yours has died suddenly.

You did not know that he was in poor health; he never complained; you thought he was in good physical condition.

You believe that he thought himself free from serious ailment. He did not consider it necessary to have frequent physical examinations. As long as you feel fairly well you think it would be foolish to have a physician examine you.

There are times when you are bothered by certain conditions which really should alarm you but you only take some so-called remedy you have heard of and pay little attention to it as a danger signal.

Not until your regular duties are interfered with do you consult a doctor and often it is too late to affect a cure.

The fate of your friend should convince you that it is unwise to put off learning from the proper source what may be the incipient stage of some disease.

Medical science might help you now and if you delay what seems a little trouble now may develop beyond the power to aid you.

It is possible to be in a serious condition and be unaware of it. (Copyright, 1930, International Feature Service Inc.)

Hawkes' Flight Brings Nearer Regular Coast To Coast Trip

New Record In Cross-Continent Travel Hailed As Demonstration Of Reliability In Motors And Consistent Performance By Pilots

Development of reliability in motors and consistent performance by pilots is recognized by the press in its appreciation of the new transcontinental speed record of Captain Frank Hawkes. His time of a little more than 12 hours from coast to coast is accepted as bringing nearer regular commercial transportation on safe planes over this route from breakfast to dinner.

"The latest flight," according to the PITTSBURGH POST-GAZETTE, "reveals a consistency in machine and man which, at the time, say, when Curtiss amazed the country by flying from Albany to New York, would have been regarded only as a remote possibility." The LYNCHBURG ADVANCE agrees that, with proper training and the careful handling of airplanes, air transportation can be made reasonably safe.

"Capt. Hawkes," comments the NEW YORK SUN, "bettered the transcontinental record by 2 hours 20 minutes; what other records he bettered the statisticians of aeronautics will figure out. The details are important and interesting, but the facts which will most impress the popular understanding are embodied in the sturdiness of his plane, the power of its engine, the accuracy of its instruments, the efficiency of the service rendered to it and the command of his exacting profession possessed by Frank M. Hawkes."

"Two years ago," remarks the CLEVELAND NEWS, "the people of the nation would have enthusiastically acclaimed the accomplishment. Today, they nod politely and go about their business. Truth of the matter is that the speed and endurance of the airplane are today accepted facts, not subjects for amazed speculation." The KALAMAZOO GAZETTE says of the significance of the record: "At the speed he maintained, it would be possible to fly across the United States and the Atlantic ocean as well within a period of 24 hours. That is approximately one-third the distance round the world. A rate only two or three times as great would enable an aviator to follow the sun around the earth in a perpetual mid-day race. Of course, such a trip is still well outside the bounds of practical endeavor, but it is not unreasonable to expect it will be brought into the realm of possibility by the perfection of airplanes and airplane equipment within the next few years."

"Most citizens dismiss the matter with a brief word of comment," declares the SCHENECTADY GAZETTE while stating that "a generation ago, the man who prophesied one would be able to have breakfast in San Francisco and dinner the same day in New York would have been looked upon as a fit subject for observation by mental specialists."

"Tremendous progress that has been made by the airplane—a progress that is more marked every year," is hailed by the SAN FRANCISCO CHRONICLE with the tribute to Capt. Hawkes that he has "demonstrated the tremendous speed of the plane of the day." The CINCINNATI TIMES-STAR offers the conclusion: "Accepting Hawkes' statement that this terrific feat was only cruising speed for his plane, there is no reason to doubt that the record from the Pacific to the Atlantic will soon be lowered, presumably by him, to ten hours. This is truly amazing progress, even in that spectacular world of aviation, where so many records have been tumbling lately."

"Hawkes' record is the result of the acme of pilot skill plus a speedy plane and smoothly performing engine," says the WASHINGTON EVENING STAR, adding, however, that "in a week, or a month, or a year perhaps, a faster ship will probably blaze its way through the skies, carrying occupant, whoever he may be, to fame and glory." The DAYTON DAILY NEWS also holds that "the laurels don't last"; that flying progress has been so consistent that the public expects a new record every time an attempt is made, and is seldom disappointed.

"Nothing seems impossible in the air," comments the LEXINGTON LEADER, predicting that "other planes, yet more speedy, will be built, and other pilots will cross the continent."

"A thousand things will bring him back To walk or sit with me. I'll stop to shift my heavy pack And at my side he'll be Someone will sing his favorite song Or praise his favorite book. And I shall see him in the throng With his familiar look."

And yet in terms of memory He'll call and call again. That smiling face of his I'll see Untouched by grief or pain. In terms of memory I shall hear His footsteps at my door. And every thought shall bring him near.

And oftener than before. A thousand things will bring him back To walk or sit with me. I'll stop to shift my heavy pack And at my side he'll be Someone will sing his favorite song Or praise his favorite book. And I shall see him in the throng With his familiar look.

Britain, tired of added expense and diminished revenues.

It interests us also. The farmer in the middle of this continent, is almost as much interested in what happens to China and India as the Chinese and Hindus themselves.

If China were eating instead of fighting and starving, if the Hindus were at peace and buying, our farmer would not be afflicted with "too much wheat, and low prices."

Queen Helen of Rumania, apparently possessing common sense, decides not to marry King Carol, who left her and their son to go rambling with another woman.

She will enter a convent, he will marry somebody else, perhaps the woman with whom he rambled. That is the difference between man and woman. The queen might have amused herself here, where we are very hungry for royalty. She choose a convent.

Mr. Gerard, former ambassador to Germany, adds 5 to his list of men that rule the United States, increasing the 59 to 64. He adds S. Z. Mitchell, president Electric Bond and Share Company; Walter Edwin Frew, head of the Corn Exchange Bank Trust Company; Amideo P. Giannini, powerful Italian banker; William Green, head of the American Federation of Labor, and Matthews Wolf, another union man, to his list of 59, making 64.

Somewhere in the background stands some individual not named, perhaps the ablest among corporation lawyers, who has more influence than the 64 put together, because he tells them what to think and what they can do.

Just why Mr. Gerard dragged in two distinguished union labor men is not understood. They know, if Mr. Gerard doesn't, that union labor has no influence in government. The motto of politicians is: "Union labor talked between elections and votes mechanically with its party on election day."

If the people get, as somebody said, "the kind of government they deserve," it must be that New York does not deserve much.

The other day it was shown that "racketeers" in the sale of milk levy on the consumers a tribute of more than $1,000,000 a week. Now the state attorney reveals a "four racket," organized to blackmail bakers and put up the price of flour. It collects only $1,050,000 a year, and is just a baby racket, at present, but will probably do better later.

Another way to save a man from drinking is to tell the boob not to drink poison hooch before going in.

Cultivate Good Habits Of Industry

By GARRY C. MYERS, Ph.D.

As you go off to college ask yourself a few questions: Are you really going or being sent? Have you planned ahead? When will you have graduated, what are you going to do? Will your going mean a personal sacrifice to your parents? How are you going to compensate them for their self-denials for you? What self-denials are you going to make? In case your parents have ample money to finance you without feeling pinched, have there been no other sacrifices by them for your sake? Suppose they give you as much money as you care to have. Where, then, are you going to get your training in self-abnegation? Do you suppose that your life will amount to much if nearly all your money wants are readily supplied?

Just 25 years ago I entered college. To me it meant a privilege about which I had dreamed for several years. I went, and my going cost me something. At considerable sacrifice my parents helped me, but it was with the understanding that I pay the money back, which I am happy to report, I did.

Is anyone not born in the United States eligible to be a member of the president's cabinet?

Yes, Secretary of Labor James J. Davis was born in Wales.

What is the longest prize fight on record?

The longest pugilistic battle took place in the Olympic club of New Orleans, April 6, 1893, between Andy Bowen (colored) and Jack Burke. The fight was stopped by the referee, Jack Duffy, at the end of the 110th round after 7 hours and 19 minutes of fighting.

Is one twice as much as nothing?

Nothing times nothing leaves nothing. Nothing from nothing leaves nothing and nothing added to nothing is nothing. Two times nothing or any number multiplied by nothing gives nothing. One is twice as much as one-half of one.

What is meant by the term "load" of electric machinery?

The "load" is either the output or demand upon a machine. It is usually measured in terms of current or power delivered. It may be light, heavy or normal, full, half-excessive, etc., according to the output of the machine at the time measured.

What rayon made of?

Rayon made by several different processes. The most common process is the use of wood pulp which is broken down into solution by chemical treatment, then spun into thread which is woven into rayon cloth. The cuprammonium process employs cotton linters and copper sulphate.

South Peru Uneasy
Due To Rebellion

Several Regiments Of Government Troops Reported In Uprising

(International News Service)
BUENOS AIRES, Aug. 25.—South
Peru rumbled with rebellion today, headed by Col. Sanchez Cerro. Several regiments have flocked to his standard, although so far no bloodshed has been reported.

President Augusto De Leguia, har-rassed by cabinet problems and disputes among his political supporters, nevertheless received assurances from various army leaders that the main body of the army was sympathetic toward him. Lima, the capital, was reported quiet.

The revolution so far has been largely confined to the south of Peru, where seven departments are in uprising.

The government meanwhile prepared to launch firm measures to curb the revolt, which has been led by a group of army officers.

Former New Castle Woman Noted As Poet

Mrs. David W. Bowen Has Had Two Books Of Poems And Novel Published

Is Ranked As Most Famous Poet In Northwest—Some Of Works Set To Music

New Castle has produced quite a few celebrities in the world of music and art, and not the least of them is Mrs. Nettie Stephenson Bowen of 1223 Spring street, Seattle, Wash., who has come into prominence in the Northwest during recent years as a poet and author.

Two volumes of verse and a novel from her pen are to be published this fall, the setting for the novel being laid in New Castle 40 years ago.

Although Mrs. Bowen has written a number of short stories for various magazines, her medium is poetry, in which field she has gained nationwide recognition.

Just what the people of the Northwest think of Mrs. Bowen can be judged from the following article recently published in the Seattle Sunday Times, along with a fine picture of Mrs. Bowen:

"Seattle's honor role of celebrities has high on the list the name of Nettie Stephenson Bowen, known in society columns and club pages as Mrs. David W. Bowen, who ranks as one of the foremost northwestern poets."

"She was born in New Castle, Pa., but since her marriage has lived in this city. She and Mr. Bowen at present are residing at 1223 Spring street. They have two children, Harry Stephenson and Beth, now Mrs. Winchester King.

"Mrs. Bowen has written short stories for various magazines, but her medium is poetry and at present she has two volumes of poems in the hands of Lohman & Hanford, publishers, to be ready early in the autumn."

"Her first poem was 'My Mile of Prayer', published in 1928 by Harold Vinal of New York. It was followed by 'Old Shoes', which won first honors in the national poetry contest conducted by the present day poets of America and was published in the Bellemine anthology of 1929, read at the New York Style Show at the Astor Hotel that same year, has been illustrated twice, published five times and broadcast over the radio. It also has been set to music by Edouard Potjes, pianist and composer, formerly director of virtuoso piano at the Royal Conservatory of Belgium, to which position he was appointed by royal decree."

"They tell the story that C. G. D. Robert, poet laureate of Canada, on reading Mrs. Bowen's poems, selected 'Friendship's Garden' as his choice. In fact he stated he could not sleep that night in attempting to decide which poem he liked the most. After due deliberation he declared this one a 'perfect gem'. It has been set to music by Walter F. Paul."

"The present edition of the anthology—published once a year and containing the best poems of that year—has two by Mrs. Bowen, 'If' and 'Bread and Butter', in the last of which she states she would like to be offered a dollar for each slice of bread and butter she has eaten."

"Mr. Potjes has taken so much interest in these works of Mrs. Bowen that he has composed music to many of them, so far only in manuscript form. In addition to 'My Mile of Prayer' these are 'Rosemary', 'My Little Bed', 'May I Walk With You?' and 'My Candle'. Daisy Wood Hildreth has also written a score to 'Trust'. These are all being sung by Mrs. W. D. Chandler, Mrs. David Morgan Roderick, Mrs. Adam Beiler and Miss Freda Houck."

"Mrs. Bowen is a member of the League of Western Writers, the local chapter of the League of American Pen Women and the Seattle Poetry Club."

Work on the prison is not expected to get under way for two or three months, officials in charge of the project here said, inasmuch as contractors on the $2,800,000 job still have work to do on their estimates.

Schooner And 40 Seamen Are Saved In Delaware Bay

Fishing Smack Comes To Rescue In Worst Storm In Bay In Years

(International News Service) LEWIS, Del., Aug. 25.—Another thrilling epic of the seas was revealed here Saturday when 40 seamen and the captain of the fishing schooner "Emily M. Foote," of the consolidated Fishing Company were saved after their vessel was pounded to pieces against the stone walls of the outer breaker in Delaware Bay.

The ship was smashed against the stones by the mountainous seas kicked up by 50-mile an hour gale that accompanied the rainstorm, which swept the Delaware capes during the night. The men under the leadership of captain John M. George, of Palmer, Va., took to the lifeboats, but the boats also were splintered against the stone breakwater barrier and the men were forced to clamber to safety up the slippery stones.

Reaching the top of the ledge they walked three miles to the harbor refuge light where they lay until day-break.

When dawn broke another fishing smack, the "Pelican," hove to in answer to their distress signals and brought them here. The men were all from this city.

The rescued sailors were none the worse from their experience beyond suffering somewhat from exposure but the $100,000 vessel was a total loss.

The "Emily M. Foote" sailed out into the upper bay yesterday on a fishing trip and was caught off shore by a dense fog which accompanied the storm. Anchors were thrown overboard in an effort to ride out the storm, but the vessel slowly drifted against the sea walls and was pounded to bits.

The storm was the worst seen in the bay in years.

Says St. Swithin's Legend Wins Out

(Special To The News) MERCER, Pa., Aug. 25.—The St. Swithin's school of weather prophets have won out and the drought is broken.

The 40 days requisite have passed in history as the drier of the century and vindicated the students of this school who claimed on July 15, which is St. Swithin's Day that the weather would be without rain due to the heat then prevailing.

It rained for two hours early Saturday morning. Write your own ticket of the value to crops of this downpour remembering that only one-tenth of an inch of rain has fallen in eastern Mercer county since the first of July.

For Normal Girlhood

"My daughter Magdalen did not seem to develop as she should. At times she had no pep at all and couldn't get her school work very easily. For four years we doctored her off and on. Then a friend told us how much Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had helped her years ago, so I got a bottle for Magdalen. Her nerves are quieting, her general health is better and she is now as normal as other girls."—Mrs. J. Bartholdi, Thompson's Addition, The Dalles, Oregon.

Election Boards Are Indicted In Luzerne County

Members Of Four Election Boards Are Indicted For Conspiracy

(International News Service) WILKESBARRE, Pa., Aug. 25.—Members of election boards in four districts of Luzerne county were indicted for conspiracy here Saturday in the final report of the grand jury to Judge W. A. Valentine.

The boards include the eighth ward of Wilkesbarre and the first and sixth of Plains, and Bear Creek.

Cases involving election board officers from Sugar Notch, Larksville, and Plymouth township were withdrawing leaving twenty men to face trial as the result of sensational exposure which followed the May primary.

Sensational testimony concerning the election, especially the contest between Gifford Pinchot and Francis Shunk Brown, was adduced before the grand jury. It was reported.

The grand jury references to Justice of the Peace, William Loftus, of Plains, who insisted he was not a member of the board in the sixth ward of Plains and had not served on it although his name had been mentioned in that connection.

Three Cold Facts Of vital interest to every citizen

1. The University of North Carolina recently made an investigation of retail food prices in Durham, N. C., a typical American city. It found that chain store grocery prices of advertised goods were 13.79 cents in the dollar lower than prices in other stores.
2. The University of Kentucky announced a few days later that it had made a retail price study of all sorts of food in Lexington, Ky., another typical city. It found food prices in chain store groceries were 14.03 cents in the dollar lower than prices in other stores.
3. The average American family spends for food between $600 and $800 a year, according to estimates of the best known authorities. This means that the average family buying its food at chain stores saves from $84 to $112 a year.

Customers of A&P knew these facts before these impartial investigations were made. It is in the public interest that everyone should know them.

Secretary Davis Concludes His Visit To Sharon

Returns To Washington After Homecoming Event On Saturday Afternoon

SHARON, Pa., Aug. 25.—After having spent three days here, Secretary of Labor James J. Davis, United States senatorial candidate on the Republican ticket, left Sunday for Washington.

Secretary Davis delivered his final address in Sharon Sunday morning, when he talked before more than 1,000 men at First Methodist church. He urged the men to aid children of the community, pointing out that they were the citizens of tomorrow.

Saturday's big home-coming celebration honoring the secretary was marred by a steady rain, which started at noon and continued until 6 o'clock. The speaking program, on which Secretary Davis and Vice President Charles Curtis were featured, was transferred to the Columbia Theater from Buhl farm. Where some 20,000 were expected to hear the outdoor program, only 2,000 could be accommodated in the theater.

Following the program, Secretary Davis paid a hospital visit to his aged father, David J. Davis, who fell and injured his wrist shortly after the secretary arrived here.

Mrs. Wolfe fainted and has only a vague recollection of being carried to the rear of the store and locked in the store room.

Make Child As Immune As Possible From Ills When Starting School

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

It won't be long now. The golden summer days are going past. They are getting shorter. Every now and then a cool morning blows across your face. There is a hint of fall in the air.

And the playtime days for the children are going past, too. The days of running and romping in the sunshine. The schoolroom looms ahead for them, poor kids. They must go back and sit straight and not whisper and do all the things it is unnatural for them to do. They must do so in order, to use the definition of education given by a great teacher, that "each individual may be inducted into the general experience of the race."

Well, there is no help for it—for their future happiness at least, it is best.

Is there anything to be done to prepare them physically so the ordeal will be a little easier on them?

Of course in many ways children stand up better than we do. They have resiliency, and their strong healthy young bodies bound back to renewed vigor in no time.

But in one respect they are weaker than adults are. They are more susceptible to certain things. Principally to infectious and infectious diseases. You see we old people have lived long enough in the world so that we have acquired an immunity to nearly all the contagious diseases.

You seldom hear of a person over 25 years of age catching scarlet fever or measles or whooping cough or chickenpox or diphtheria. Why is this? Because all these diseases are spread by contact, and by the time a person has lived to the age of 25 or 30 he has been in contact with all these diseases and has developed an immunity.

Sometimes you develop an immunity to a disease by actually having an attack of it. When the germ which causes it gets into your body your blood and other tissue juices produce antibodies to the poison of the germ. Then they produce an active poison against the germ which kills it off.

Ever after, whenever you come in contact with that germ, your blood and body juices have been sensitized so that they produce the antibodies and poisons for it immediately. You do not have a second attack. Your body throws off the poison and kills the germ before you have a chance to get sick.

But you do not always have to have a disease in order to acquire an immunity to it. If you meet enough people, get into crowded theaters and street cars where everyone breathes the same air, you are bound to take in a few germs from other people. There may be old, weak germs which your body juices can neutralize and kill off very easily. Even so, you acquire what is called "contact immunity." You do not actually have the disease—say it is diphtheria—against which most people acquire contact immunity, but you are protected from it for the rest of your life.

It takes time to do this. You have to live some years in the world.

Children have very little of this contact immunity. They have not had enough contacts with people. And when they are crowded in a schoolroom they are liable to get a good many. Mind you, I think it is a good thing. To keep them away from crowds and from their fellows is to expose them to the same dangers later in life.

But is there any way to protect them from the worst of the dangers of school contacts? From the most serious contagious diseases they can have?

Yes there is. And the carrying out of these procedures is the most important thing that you can do to prepare your child for school. I will describe the essential ones in the following articles this week.

Highland U. P. Men Plan For Picnic

Men Of Church To Be Guests Of Men's Bible Class On September 9

Plans have been inaugurated by the Men's Bible class of the Highland U. P. church for their annual picnic, which will be held Tuesday evening, September 9, at the summer camp of Charles C. Withers in Plain Grove. In former years, the men of the class have entertained the entire church at a picnic, but plans have been changed this year to include only the men of the church as their guests.

President John Haven named members of the executive committee and the social committee to have charge of arrangements and a good program of entertainment will be worked out for the occasion.

by JOSEPH VAN RAALTE

NEW YORK, Aug. 25—New York racketeers have started to pick on the doctors. They have prepared a gilt-edged "sucker-list" called from the better residential areas of town and the Big Bill and Prescription men are being warned against running in to a variation of the old badger game. When receiving calls for treatment from unknown women patients in hotels, Em Dees are advised to insist upon the house "Dick" acting as chaperon.

The racket came to light when a prominent Park Avenue Pulse Feeler, with sensitive, retiring disposition kicked in $5,000 rather than be "exposed."

SOILED SHOWS
Cardinal Hayes came out the other day with a blast against Soiled Shows. Immediately thereafter, Bishop Manning and Bobbi Wise chorused in with an "Us Too." Then the next day everybody forgot all about it and things rolled along as they always do. It's a funny thing about Soiled Shows. Every once in awhile some dignitary hurls a few verbal javelins in the direction of Davie Belasco, George White, Earl Carroll, et al. but none of them ever pays the least attention to the vaudeville shows in town which is where the real nastiness is indulged in.

Some of the songs and "jokes" that are hurled from the stage of The Palace today—and The Palace is no exception—remind me of the old back-room of the corner saloon.

As a matter of fact, comparing the two, the old back-room was the cleaner. There were no inhibitions there to complicate matters. Soiled vaudeville is worse than dirt on the legitimate stage. Vaudeville audiences may be hardboiled, but they're less sophisticated than Carroll-White-Belasco patrons.

But when all's said and done, "A man's politics and religion may be hereditary, but theatre-going is his own fault."

There are two cases before the courts in New York that are engaging the attention of every citizen, great and small. The small issue is involved, and resolves itself into this: "May a motorist talk back to a traffic cop without thereby drawing a 'ticket'?"

Police Commissioner Mulrooney was shocked when he heard that discussion had arisen over so academic a question. Certainly, absolutely, and of course, a citizen may "talk back" to a cop.

In theory, Mr. Mulrooney, is eminently correct. In practice, that's something else again. New York cops may be the bravest and the best looking of their class, but they sure have dispositions that resemble the outer edge of so many buzz saws.

One of them was bawling out a motorist recently. The motorist said: "Why are you men so unpleasant, as a class?"

"If you had my job you'd be unpleasant, too," replied the policeman. "In that case," said the motorist, "why don't you get another job—some work in which you'd be happier?"

"Who said I wasn't happy?" demanded the minion of the law. "You're one o' dem fresh guys, ain't you? I gotta good mind 't give you a ticket—and a lot more."

TOLERANT BOBBIES
The New York police could take a lesson from the London Bobby. They're every bit as efficient over

Florida Solon Plans To End Storm Peril With Air Bombs

Weather Chief, However, Turns Cold Shoulder To Scheme
And September Hurricane Danger Still Menaces
Bumper Fruit Crop

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—Florida's senior Senator, Duncan U. Fletcher, has been seeking means of employing high explosives to destroy little Caribbean hurricanes before they become big September storms.

Displaying a large file of data on how to control hurricanes by aerial bombs, the Senator today admitted he received small encouragement from the Weather Bureau.

In fact, he said, C. F. Marvin,
Weather Bureau chief, had pronounced "not practicable" the plan to send a destroyer into the Caribbean Sea during the imminent formative period of hurricanes, to watch for them and destroy or disperse them with aerial bombs. Marvin proclaimed the ocean surface too vast, and the evidence that hurricanes originate through miniature whirls not sufficiently clear to warrant such a course.

A constituent, Fletcher explained, had written him that storms of gale force have been predicted to strike the coasts of the Gulf States between September 8 and 12. Calling attention to a bumper Florida fruit crop yet to be marketed to see if he could not get a hurricane-destroying destroyer and thus save the fruit crop.

The white-haired Senator sighed.
He expressed himself as open-minded, today on any method a young scientist might develop in hurricane control. But he thought he would have to rely on the improved warning methods of the Weather Bureau, and the hope that the "freak storm"
cycle had passed.

"I lived for 49 years in Florida before I ever saw a hurricane, and I'm hoping for a return to the good old days of mere equinoctials," he said.
"Then, too, when the last River and Harbors bill gets into action we'll have a dike on Lake Okeechobee higher than its waters were ever piled by any hurricane."

Motorists Now Have Clear Road Into Pittsburgh Over Newly Finished Route

Two Small Detours In Force Between Harlansburg And Portersville

Motorists now have a new route into Pittsburgh, via the Perry Highway, the remainder of the route between Harlansburg and Portersville, having been thrown open for public use Saturday morning.

With the exception of two detours at Grant City and at the Slippery Rock Creek, both in Slippery Rock township, the road is in excellent condition, and a great number of motorists tried out the new highway Sunday.

Detours have been established at the above mentioned spots, where new bridges are to be placed, contracts for which have already been let. Officials of the state highway department stated this morning that the old road is being used at these places, and is in good condition for travel.

The highway is now open for its entire length in Lawrence County, providing an egress both north and south in the eastern section of the county.

The road was completed in record time, work having been started early in the spring, and with a large number of men available for the task, was rushed along rapidly.

New Castle Post Captures Honor

Receives Silver Cup At Legion Convention For Largest Membership

EASTON IS WINNER OF NEXT CONVENTION

Civilian representatives of the Easton Chamber of Commerce, the ministerial association and city council, attending in force at the close of the 12th convention of the State Department of the American Legion at Harrisburg, Saturday, successfully captured the delegates' vote to hold the 1931 convention in Easton, instead of New Castle. Dr. H. H. Rosenthal, commander of the New Castle post, and a delegate, declared today.

The vote to hold the next convention in Easton climaxed a tremendous campaign by Easton citizens, who worked throughout the year to have the convention in their city. New Castle, with less support, its delegates and convention sponsors apparently overwhelmed by the rising opposition in favor of Easton, was the runner up for the 1931 convention. The time and place committee of the state Legionnaires, debated for two days before voting in favor of Easton over New Castle.

The 26th District, comprising Legion posts in Lawrence, Butler and Beaver counties, and including the Perry S. Gaston post, No. 343, of New Castle, held first position in the ranks of districts in the state, in numerous events. It was first in the number of delegates sent to the convention, with 54 members official delegates.

The New Castle post again received the silver cup for having the greatest membership; between 450 and 500 members. It is the second time that the cup has been awarded to the post.

New Castle delegates, Commander H. H. Rosenthal, Glenn J. Berry, Guy Wadlinger, Ivor Davis and Harry Long, combined with other delegates to elect Ray Taylor of Harrisburg department commander. The honor was won by Charles T. Engard of Germantown, after Allegheny and Philadelphia county delegates decided to vote for him and elect him by an overwhelming majority.

The 26th District carried away all trophies except three and became the sensation of the convention.

A New Castle branch of the National Sons and Daughters of America was formed when members of the Umberto Italian society of the city convened at Umberto hall, Division street, Sunday afternoon. Only a temporary organization was effected for the time being.

In default of $500 bail, he was remanded to the county jail to await a hearing on the charge, which will be held Wednesday.

Councilman Stanley Treser today introduced an ordinance, which provides for the construction of a sanitary sewer in Morris street, 40 feet north of Ralph avenue to the end of the present sanitary sewer in Charter street. House connections must be made from both sides of the street. The measure was sent to committee and reported out favorably.

A search of the car by the officers revealed a quart and a half gallon jug of moonshine. Mitchell admitted that he was in the act of delivering it on South Jefferson street, when captured after a chase.

He also said he could tell where there was some more and the officers went with him to his home where they found a two gallon jug full of moonshine and one in which there was about a quart.

Five men, four of them white, and two colored women, were arrested by the officers at this place. The colored man was Woodard, owner of the car. All with the exception of Woodard and Mitchell were allowed to go on $10 forfeits or fines as the case happened to be.

Car of G. W. Miller, West Division street, was parked on Long avenue near Scioto street, when the machine of Kirkwood hit and damaged it.

Officer Walls was on the scene and finding that Kirkwood was apparently under the influence of liquor, placed him under arrest.

Paul Braunstein of 1310 East Washington street, also reported that while he was driving south on Moravia street, that he had been forced to drive up over the curb to get out of the way of the Kirkwood car.

Today, Kirkwood was taken to the office of Alderman L. C. Mantz where he was charged by Chief of Police C. C. Horner with operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor. Crowds Hamper Firemen In Work

Huge Throng Swarms About Warehouse Last Night And Machines Clutter Streets

As has been the case in the past, local firemen were considerably hampered in their work at the fire at the South Side Merchants Union warehouse Sunday evening, by crowds of people swarming about the place.

Firemen directed machine traveling up and down Mill street away from the blaze, but a great number of motorists came in along the 7th and L. E. freight station and down Grove street, and crowded in as close to the blaze as possible.

After the fire was over, a number attempted to drive over the firehose stretched along the street, one motorist accomplishing the act before he could be prevented.

City ordinances provide a fine for such an offense and firemen believe it should be enforced rigidly, as well as the ordinance prohibiting motorists from following the fire trucks to a blaze.

Revolver Shots Echo Thru Wampum Streets; Constable In Action

Main street in the borough of Wampum, usually a silent thoroughfare in the late hours of the night, bristled with excitement late Saturday when Constable R. G. Talley, handcuffed a troublesome motorist who was under the influence of liquor, chased a fleeing auto thief, and fired six shots from his revolver.

The quiet of the borough received a setback at 11:30 p. m. when Constable Talley driving on Main street, which is the Wampum-New Castle highway, encountered a motorist, whose tactics immediately caused action by the constable.

The particular motorist, who it was learned, was William Snyder, aged 24, of R. D. 2 New Galilee, was driving a coupe, headed in the direction of New Castle. Constable Talley dropped his machine ahead of the coupe and ordered the driver to halt. Snyder did not halt. Instead, he switched into reverse gear and proceeded to back into the heart of the quiet borough street at a fast speed, it is reported.

Whether or not the action of Snyder surprised the constable is probable.

But Talley shouted for the man to halt. When his commands were not heeded, Constable Talley fired four shots. The two front tires of the coupe were punctured, but the car continued and ran into the yard of P. I. Anderson, who lives at Stewart Hill. Stewart Hill proved a Waterloo to Snyder. Here he was apprehended and handcuffed by the constable. But before Snyder's hands had been secured, Talley, according to his own statement, had a difficult time to drag Snyder from his coupe.

Taken before Alderman W. E. Marshall Snyder pleaded guilty to a charge of driving a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor and was held under $500 bail.

Returning to Wampum after the Snyder incident and ready to enjoy the lull in excitement, Constable Talley found that he would have to use his revolver a second time that night.

On the return he rode with George Herbert of Wampum. Nearing the Main street home of Herbert, both men observed a strange roadster parked in the driveway. Just as the two started on at investigation a man jumped out of the machine and hurried away. When shouting to the fleeing man to stop proved futile, Constable Talley fired two shots. The man disappeared in the direction of the P. & L. E. railroad tracks. The shots missed, according to the constable.

Upon investigation it was discovered that the roadster had been stolen and its license plates, containing the number 4R02 had been stolen from another machine.

Local Exhibits Win Honors At "Glad" Show Of Mahoning Society

"Flame Of New Castle" Gets Prize At Famous Youngstown Exhibition

A first prize, three second and six third prizes were captured by Mrs. C. C. Thayer, of 321 East Wallace avenue, and his daughter, Mrs. I. T. Norris, who entered numerous plants, including several varieties of their own origination, in the Mahoning Gladiolus Society show, which ended Saturday.

The number of entries, quality of bloom and artistry of arrangement, the society staked one of the finest shows ever held in the country, prominent men and women of the "glad" world believe.

C. C. Thayer has been an enthusiastic grower of the flowers for years, and his hobby has brought him many rewards. Last year he won the Ohio Garden Club silver medal for a new seedling of purple lacinated variety. In the Youngstown show he was one of the many judges and an exhibitor of note. Another New Castle resident to be a judge at the event was Mrs. S. D. Pearson of 421 Moody avenue, who was a judge in the junior basket division at the show.

Altogether Mr. Thayer and Mrs. Norris won 11 prizes in the show which had 1321 entries, or between four to 20 in each class. "Rags," entered in Class 58, with the lacinated exhibition, brought a first prize to C. C. Thayer. "Flame of New Castle," entered under Mrs. Norris' name, received third prize in the vase division. Class 108 of the large flowered type of plant. Mrs. Norris explains that the name given to the flower was inspired by the sight observed upon the city's sky while the industrial plants are in full swing in the district.

C. C. Thayer's "Mary Pickford," entered in the cream division, Class 23, won third prize. Among other originations of the local gladioli enthusiasts are the scarlet ruff "A. L. Thayer" and the "Mrs. C. C. Thayer," a cream with a pink edge and pink plume.

Drunk Declares He Was Only Visiting Homes In Effort To Borrow Match

Although calls to local police headquarters for an officer to quell petty offenses prove uninteresting to the police after an investigation has been conducted the incidents that prompt irate householders to telephone to police are often replete with choice morsels of human interest.

In many instances the trivial nature of the violations prove a source of humor to the officers who respond in the police cars to the supposed scene of trouble.

In some cases the police find a chain of circumstances that originated from a minor call and resulted into a discovery of major importance. It is like the story of the society editor who was reluctant to attend a social tea, but once at the scene of the society gathering comes upon a first class murder story.

As usual, the calls were received at the headquarters of the New Castle police Saturday evening. A door that was found unlocked, a dead cat on the street, a car with a drunken driver observed zig-zagging down the busy thoroughfare.

In the evening a call came from West Wallace avenue, where a woman telephoned that a man under the influence of liquor had been terrifying the neighborhood, knocking on front doors, shouting and disturbing the peace. When the police arrived and scoured the streets of the neighborhood, one who caused the rumpus was quickly found. He was standing at the entrance of a West Wallace avenue home and attempting to open the door. At least one person was peering through a window of the residence, while the intruder banged away at the door. After he had been pulled into the machine he told police in the uneven tone that he tried to borrow a match from every home on the street, but had not been successful.

After a search two bottles of bay rum were found in the arrested man's pockets.

Another Call
Officer Wallace telephoned for help Saturday night. When the police car with two officers met him at South Mill street and Long avenue he was standing with a bewildered man, who proved to be a foreigner. Said Officer Wallace: "This man (pointing to the man with the huge mustache) was out for a big night. He went into some foreign home around here and ordered four bottles of beer, which he emptied in no time. When the head of the place ordered him to pay for the beer he did not have any money. So before bouncing him out of the house, they took his watch in payment. The place is dark and is supposed to be full of people."

The three officers took the man in hand and ordered him to direct them to the place. The byways and alleys of the South Side were combed for the particular house, a wooden one-story building. But, the man minus his watch could not point out the place where he indulged in drink. In fact he could not speak English very well.

Boys Flee
For a long time a gang of young street urchins had gathered at the corner of South Jefferson and Lawrence streets, near a church, for nightly sessions of noise that disturbed members of the church congregation. On Saturday a police car circled the church several times. Before it had made its first visit to the vicinity, however, a few boys, apparently the advance guard of the others, dispersed at the first sight of the machine and its glaring flashlight. A broken window and a car without a tail light attracted the attention of police while this call was made.

Drop Their Burden
Another call from the south of the city was productive of little excitement. A Moravia street resident saw a man under the influence of liquor being escorted by two companions. The man they were carrying apparently taxed their strength. At any rate the pair dropped the burden behind a billboard on a field and continued on their way. Police found the man, a well known police character here, stretched near the billboard rain-drops falling in his face.

SOME POINTERS CONCERNING VOTING MACHINE OPERATION

With the general election not very far off talk of voting machines has again invaded the limelight. Not long ago A. W. Chilton of the New Castle Chamber of Commerce gave a talk to local Kiwanis in which he described the advantages to be gained through voting with voting machines.

Before leaving New Castle for the state department convention of the American Legion at Harrisburg last Thursday, Dr. H. H. Rosenthal, commander of Perry S. Gaston post No. 343, announced that the local post will try the voting machine at its regular election of officers next October.

To give readers an insight into the intricacies—if there are any—of the voting machine, a manufacturer of the devices was asked several questions regarding his product. The questions and answers follow:

Question—How does a voter cast his ballot on the voting machine?

Answer—The voter casts his ballot on the voting machine by first swinging a lever to the right, which completely encloses him with a curtain, after which he simply turns down a small lever, or "pointer," over the name of each candidate for whom he wishes to vote, and over the "yes" or "no" of each amendment, or referendum question, which may be submitted to the electorate. Then, leaving the pointers down, he returns the curtain lever to the left, which brings the pointers back to their unvoted position, registers his vote and opens the curtain.

Question—How long does it take to vote on the voting machine?

Answer—The average length of time for voting on the voting machine is less than a minute.

Question—Can a vote be cast on the voting machine for candidates who have not been nominated?

Answer—The voter can cast a ballot for candidates who have not been nominated by raising slides on the voting machine, provided for that purpose over the title of every office, and writing in, on the paper thus exposed, the names of candidates for whom he wishes to vote.

Question—Is it possible to ascertain how any voter is marking, or has marked, his ballot on the voting machine?

Answer—Before it is possible to cast a ballot on the voting machine the curtain must be completely closed around the voter by the operation of the curtain lever. When this lever is returned, to register the vote and open the curtain, the pointers are removed to their unvoted position, before the curtain starts to open, thus making it impossible for any one to see how the voter has voted.

Question—Is it possible for the figures on the voting machine counters to be altered?

Answer—The counter compartment of the voting machine cannot be opened until the front of the machine is locked against voting, which operation automatically secures the counters in place. After the counter compartment has been opened it is impossible to cast any more votes on the machine.

Question—Can a person vote more than once on the voting machine?

Answer—Before anyone can vote on the voting machine the curtain lever must be released by the proper election official. As soon as the voter has cast his ballot and opened the curtain this lever is locked in place automatically, and so remains until it is again released by the election official in charge. This prevents anyone from voting more than once, and also precludes the possibility of anyone's voting without the knowledge of the election officials.

Garbage Collectors Having Rush Season

Garbage collectors in New Castle are finding their most difficult work to maintain schedules at the present time.

With the corn season in full swing the amount of garbage to be collected is much larger than ordinary, and it is requiring more work to make the collections.

'Good Times Are Coming,' Chorus Bankers Of Nation

October 1 Seen As Beginning Of Era When Business Will Be Better Than Before 1929 Slump—Conditions Analyzed By Dr. Julius Klein

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—"Good times" will return to America in October, bankers of the country voted, 2 to 1, in a poll analyzed in the American magazine by Dr. Julius Klein, assistant secretary of the Department of Commerce.

The remaining one-third of the bankers polled put the date no later than January 1. All predicted a healthier condition than that which preceded the 1929 debacle.

"The climb will be healthier than that after any previous depression," Klein declares. "The condition of 1929 was hysterical. We are heading toward an earned prosperity rather than a hysterical one. We will arrive at the brass tacks era rather than another brass band age."

Klein points out that 11 depressions in the past 40 years were, on the average, of about 13 months duration. In no case, he adds, have these depressions, especially that of 1929, covered areas on the business map as have those of 1907 and 1921.

Outright stockholders in the six major corporations of the United States have increased by nearly 200,000 since the market crash, Klein says. Business and investors are more closely knit by improved transportation and communication. The country profits by improvement in a similar one, he adds.

"Foreign trade," says the assistant secretary, "will grow with the stabilization of foreign buying power, because Europe still buys half its needs from America. We will have a far more substantial economic body for passing of the cream-puff age in business."

General Anthony Wayne Owned Thousand Acres Of Mercer County Land

(Special To The News)
MERCER, Pa., Aug. 25.—That General Mad Anthony Wayne of Revolutionary fame owned 1,000 acres of land in Mercer county immediately following that war is developed today by Recorder William Jones who finds record of the grant from the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to its colonial troops among the early transfers of Mercer county property. One tract to the famous general is located at Charleston, the other at Milledgeville. There were five tracts of land set apart for donation to these veterans. They total 200,000 acres. Grants were made, says Jones, according to the rank of the soldier.

Privates were given 250, captains got 300, majors 400, colonels and generals drew 500. The index to the grants covers 13 pages of a huge document with 45 on each page. The transfers are written on parchment with a goose quill pen.

They are still readable with ease and are interesting for the quaint style of penmanship and spelling to say nothing of being a county directory of the first families.

Many present day families will find their ancestors in this list. It is also of interest that there are farms in this county to which the title has passed from this Revolutionary ancestor to present day ownership leaving the family.

B. P. W. Clubs Enjoy Conneaut Lake Week End
Send Greetings To State President And International Conference At Geneva

Business and professional women from Meadville, Greenville, New Kensington, Corry, Grove City, Erie, Williamsport, Wellsboro and New Castle enjoyed an outing at Conneaut Lake over the week-end, when they met for a business and pleasure session.

The outing opened with dinner in the Conneaut hotel Saturday evening, followed by a business session in the crystal room of the hotel and at the conclusion of business a card party proved delightful instead of the boat ride, which had been planned, the weather not permitting this.

The Meadville club had charge of the Saturday evening entertainment and proved themselves charming hostesses.

Sunday morning the representatives of the various clubs all met at breakfast after which the New Castle club had charge of the program in the crystal room. Talks on the club and its work were presented by the various members.

The luncheon at noon was followed by an afternoon session with the Greenville and Meadville clubs in charge, at which time a cablegram was sent to Dr. Mildred Rogers of this city, the state president of the B. P. W. at Geneva, where an international conference is now in progress. The clubs extended their greetings and wished them success in forming an international federation.

Following the afternoon session the members departed for their homes. Those from New Castle were Nancy Bechtol, Maude Mitchell, Mary Wilson, Mathilda Cooley, Grace Brown and Alice Sterling.

The team will practice at Camp Perry to prepare for the national pistol shooting event at the camp soon.

Protest Awarding Of Legion Cups For Competitive Drills
Twelfth Annual Pennsylvania American Legion Convention Ends

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Aug. 25.—So far as everyone is concerned, the twelfth annual convention of the Pennsylvania American legion today was over and done.

But to Capt. John T. Bretz, it still lives. For Capt. Bretz was chairman of the committee in charge of contests and today he was still wondering who gets which prizes, awarded in the drill and band competitions Saturday.

For he is holding six numbers, which mean nothing to him until he finds who held the number; and in two cases, protests have been filed against the judges' decision, necessitating a casting up of accounts and revamping of first estimates.

The band of Mahanoy city post was awarded third prize, $50, in class A competition. The band however, protested it belonged in class B, and if the contention is upheld it will get first prize of $200 in that division.

7. Nathanael Greene—Fortifying Breed's Hill

ON JUNE 17, 1775, THE LEADERS OF THE AMERICAN ARMY BESIEGING GENERAL GAGE AND HIS BRITISH TROOPS IN BOSTON RESOLVED TO SEIZE AND FORTIFY BUNKER HILL AND BREED'S HILL BEHIND CHARLESTOWN FROM WHICH BATTERIES COULD COMMAND THE CITY OF BOSTON.

ON THE NIGHT OF JUNE 16 THE COLONIALS STEALTHILY ADVANCED, OCCUPIED THE HEIGHTS, AND HASTILY BUILT A LINE OF EARTHWORKS AND A REDOUBT ON BREED'S HILL. DAWN REVEALED THE COMPLETED WORKS TO THE ASTONISHED BRITISH.

GAGE AT ONCE SENT 5000 REDCOATS TO DRIVE THE AMERICANS FROM THEIR NEW POSITION. INSTEAD OF SEIZING THE NARROW NECK OF LAND (SEE MAP) BEHIND BUNKER HILL AND TRAPPING THE AMERICANS, GAGE STUPIDLY ORDERED A FRONTAL ASSAULT UPON THE HILLS.

BY NOON (JUNE 17) THE BRITISH REGULARS (UNDER GEN. HOWE), HAVING BEEN FERRIED OVER FROM BOSTON IN SMALL BOATS, WERE MASSED ON THE CHARLESTOWN SHORE. ABOVE THEM, ON THE HEIGHTS, SOME 1500 AMERICANS GRIMLY AWAITED THE ATTACK.

Doubles Champion In Senior
And Junior Events To Be Crowned Tonight

MAYOR GILLESPIE
TO PRESENT CUPS

Tonight will see the end of the Sears, Roebuck city-wide tennis tournament. The doubles champions in the senior and junior classes will be crowned tonight with the playing of two match games. Mayor W. H. Gillespie will be present to give out the cups to the various winners.

The junior doubles championship match will start at 5 o'clock with Viganio and Must playing Reiber and Emery for the title. The Reiber-Emery combination has been a big surprise for the tournament officials, as they have fought their way valiantly to the front. The Viganio-Must combination is very good and they will extend the pretenders to the crown.

The senior match is between Lamoree and Johnson teamed together against Lewis and Jones. The Lamoree-Johnson combination is favored to win the crown over their less experienced opponents.

Ray Must and George Johnson, the champions of the senior and junior singles tournaments, will be on hand to receive their cups from the mayor. A large crowd is expected to attend the final matches tonight.

J. W. Wiley, manager of Sears, Roebuck company, is quite well pleased with the results of the tournaments, and says that the event may become an annual affair. Tully Calazza, who has directed the tournament along with Tom Lewis, also deserves credit for the manner in which the events have been run off.

The senior doubles event will take place at 6 o'clock, or immediately following the junior championship match.

This is the first tennis tournament staged here in a number of years and has been a big success.

Sam Perry Reaches Finals In Match

Will Be One Of The Finalists In The Field Club Championship Contest

Samuel Perry Jr., one of the most youthful contenders for the golf championship of the New Castle Field Club this year has reached the finals in the event, topping over William M. Nunn, a former champion, and all his other opponents until now he has reached the finals. In the semi-final, he had George Johnson as his opponent and by defeating the latter he has placed for the finals.

His opponent in the finals is as yet undecided, as George Trainor, defending champion, and W. J. Offutt have yet to play off their third round match and the winner of their match must in turn meet Bill Long in the semi-finals of their bracket.

Whoever may be the final winner in this bracket and meet Perry will give him stiff competition and the finals give promise of being well worth seeing.

The finals will be thirty-six holes, match play and as it now looks as if the younger element in the championship competition would fight it out, there is no question but there will be some super golf played in deciding this year's champion.

It may be just as well that English universities do refrain from offering courses in United States history.—The St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Taylor Stars As Cubs Win

Danny Taylor Steals Home To Give Cubs Victory Over
Giants

WESLEY FERRELL
WINS HIS 22nd

By COPELAND C. BURG
International News Service Sports Writer.

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—Everybody was talking about Danny Taylor, that Chicago Cub outfielder, today. And on Sunday everybody was looking at Danny Taylor off third base—that is, everybody except Joe Heving, Giant pitcher, who was very busy probably wondering how he could spend his world's series money divvy.

Anyway, it was the nine inning; score 2 to 2; two men out and three Cubs crowding the sacks with Taylor dancing around third. Taylor was that well-known cynosure of 46,999 pairs of eyes. They saw Taylor dash for home; they saw that slow, deliberate windup of Heving, as unconscious as though he had been drinking novocaine cocktails. They saw Taylor cross the plate just before the ball floated over and the Cubs won 3 to 2. It was a thrilling climax to one of the most important weeks of the season—a week that marked the challenge and failure of the Giants, the fearful and perhaps final collapse of the Robins in the National circuit.

Those St. Louis Cardinals moved closer to the third place Dodgers as they took a double-header from the Phillies, 9-4 and 6-4. Lindsey Miller's openend and Burleigh Grimes getting credit for the vesper victory.

A triple by Sammy West with two on triumphed 7 to 3 for the Senators over the Athletics, cutting the A's lead to seven and one-half games.

Ferrell Wins 22.
Fifty thousand fans turned out to watch the Yankees and Indians divide a double-header and Babe Ruth didn't even get a hit. Dutsy Miller's 11th inning homer won for the Yanks in the first game 5 to 3, while Wesley Ferrell pitched himself his 22nd victory in the tie tilt as the Indians snatched it, 4 to 2.

Kremer hurled the Pirates to a 9 to 6 win over the Reds, who came back with Ray Kolp in the sun-down entertainment to get the nod, 2 to 0. Gaston limited the White Sox to three singles and elevated Boston, 2 to 0, Chicago taking the nightcap in 11 innings with Craway on the mound, 5 to 4.

The Browns bunched their hits, drove Earl Whitehill to the porcelain, breaking his long winning streak, and lowered away Detroit, 7 to 5.

Indians Look Good.
Rain kept the Robins and Braves idle.

Pittsburgh led the National league during the week with six wins and one loss (Sunday games not counted) while Cleveland topped the American plant with six triumphs and no defeats. The Cardinals won five games and dropped two. The Cubs with the big total of 104 hits for the week, took four out of seven, while the Giants dropped three out of seven. The Phillies made 92 hits, including ten homers, during the week but could walk off with only two out of seven tilts. Brooklyn scored only 15 runs losing seven in eight encounters.

The champion Athletics walked off with four of six skirmishes, while Washington, topping the American league in hits with 71, garnered four of seven games. The Yankees broke even with three falls in six trials and Detroit followed with three wins and four defeats. The White Sox and Browns ranked even with two victories in six games. Boston Red Sox trailed with five losses and one triumph. They made only 16 runs during the week.

There are eight survivors left in the Van Fleet and Eakin golf tourney at the Municipal course. It is hoped that these matches can be staged this week and thus windup the first tourney started at the new public links.

The survivors are: "Tucker" Nolan and Ed Mackey in the quarter-finals, and also Bud Kay and Hackett Kennedy. Ed Kelley vs "Bob" Binton and Gene Veri vs Ed Wilson.

Jack Casey, veteran Pittsburgh auto racer, has entered in the 100-mile gasoline derby to be held at the fair ground track Labor Day. It was announced today by Bob Wyre, chairman of the contest board of the American Motor Contest association.

Other Pittsburgh territory drivers who have entered are George Schoenberger, Washington; H. W. Aiken, New Kensington; Earl Johnson, Tarentum; George Bowers, Imperial, and Bennie Bunce, Pittsburgh.

Doubles Champs To Defend Titles

National Men's And Mixed Doubles Play Starts At Longwood Cricket Club

(International News Service)
CHESTNUT HILL, Mass., Aug. 25.—The national men's and mixed doubles tennis championships get under way here this afternoon on the courts of the Longwood Cricket Club, with exceptionally strong fields entered.

George M. Lott, 2nd, of Chicago and John Hope Doeg of Santa Monica, Cal., fourth and third ranking players of the country, respectively, and both members of the 1930 American Davis Cup Team, will defend their title in the men's doubles.

Lott will also have a hand in the defense of the mixed doubles championship, and he will have as his partner the British star with whom he won the title last year, Betty Nuthall.

Besides Lott and Doeg there are Wilber Allison and Johnny Van Ryn, the Wimbledon champions.

Also entered are Bill Tilden, national champion and Frank Hunter, the 1929 runner-up for the singles laurels. Then there are Keith Gledhill and Ellsworth Vines, the Pasadena team which upset Allison and Van Ryn at that tournament.

Another California team which must be considered is the combination of Dr. Gerald Bartosch and Jack Tidball.

Marlow Rother Is Expected To Be Crowned Decathlon Champion

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 25.—Having feasted off the porterhouse of the national championships in track and field for two days, the Pacific coast will return to the carcass today to pick its bones and leave them bleaching and stark to the eye. On Friday, the coast nominated the junior team champion in the Olympic Club of San Francisco. On Saturday, it sponsored five record-breakers and a senior championship team from the Los Angeles A. C., not to mention the Olympic Club, which finished second, and the Washington A. C., Seattle, which finished third. Today, there are seven championships to be decided and the coast will win only four of them, largely, I suspect, because it failed to enter the other three.

Rather Favored.
For one thing, Marlow Rother is reckoned to be a push-in for the decathlon or all around championship. He is a Stanford man, competing out of the Olympic Club. For another, Herman Brix, is liable to break the world's record for the shot put. He is a Pacific Northwesterner, who has gone Hollywood with the Los Angeles A. C. for a third, it is difficult to see how the Los Angeles team of Maxwell, Williams, Alf and Dyer can go wrong in the 440 and 880 yard relays.

The overnight withdrawal of the New York A. C. teams simplifies the Los Angeles assignment in these events, if it needed simplifying, which is doubtful. The Californians really had nobody to beat in the first place. The entries now left in the two fields are the Newark A. C., the Chase Park A. C., Chicago, and the Denver A. C., and according to all the form sheets, the only real contest should be between Los Angeles and the records for these races.

May Break Record.
In the quarter mile relay, the favorites will have to do better than 41 seconds to catch the world's American and championship record of the Newark A. C., which means that their chances are not so good. Four men may run faster than 41 seconds but hardly in the same field race. In the half mile, they must do 1:25-3:5 to tie the world's record by the University of Southern California and 1:26-4:5 to catch the championship record, jointly held by the New York A. C., and Los Angeles A. C. They may do the latter but probably not the former.

Brix's spot on the bill represents an added attraction. He is playing a return engagement in a special shot put series at 8 pounds, 12 pounds and 16 pounds. The latter being the piece de resistance. He hopes to beat the world's record of Hirschfeld, the German, which is 52 feet 7 1/4 inches, and full many more who believe that he will. The young man did 52 feet 3 3/4 inches for an American record in Saturday's dank kick and figures that a milder day ought to be good for a course of extra inches. Besides, he is said to have beaten Hirschfeld's record lots of times in practice; so maybe he can solve the difficulty by either practicing in competition or else competing in practice.

Must Be Good.
Rother is trying the all-around racket for the first time but is said to have something of a flair for the thing. He, of course, is ought to be good for a decathlon record in the shot put, a discus, a javelin, a high jump, a pole vault, a long jump, a 100 yard dash, a 200 yard dash, a 400 yard dash, a 800 yard dash, a 1600 yard dash, a 3200 yard dash, a 6400 yard dash, a 12800 yard dash, a 25600 yard dash, a 51200 yard dash, a 102400 yard dash, a 204800 yard dash, a 409600 yard dash, a 819200 yard dash, a Virginia Johnston Describes Passion Play Sunday Morning

Nature Takes Part In Making Passion Play Thing Of Realism

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 25.—The peaceful village of Oberammergau, nestled in the green valley between the Ammer Mountains, with the quiet river by its side, formed the perfect and natural setting for the Passion Play as seen by Miss Virginia Johnston, who gave a vivid description of the whole thing before a capacity audience in the Methodist Episcopal church yesterday morning.

Miss Johnston first described the peasant people who prepare for this event, by trying to live the life of their character in order to portray it perfectly. She spoke of their manner of dress and next the manner of the theatre in which they gave the presentation. The stage is uncovered with the exception of one small portion, giving the natural scenery a chance to bring out the beautiful effects.

As the play progressed and the story of Christ was portrayed the sky actually clouded and when the mob gathered at Gethsemane, there was thunder and lightning. As the crowd followed Christ to the cross, it was through blinding rain. As the scene at the cross cleared, the rain ceased and the sun came out, to finish with a lovely sunset as the glory of the ascension was concluded, leaving the audience uplifted.

The entire Passion Play is given in German and all members of the village with the exception of the married women have a part in it.

Warren Griffith Gives Inspiring Address Sunday

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 25.—Warren Griffith, student of theology, preached an inspiring sermon in the First Presbyterian church last night, as a part of the program arranged by the Young People's Council.

Taking for his theme, a discussion of the belief of the youth of today, he stated that the two basic factors of Christianity were the belief in God and belief in man, either one of which could not survive without the other.

Miss Marjorie Streeter at the organ, was in charge of the choir of young people including Miss Florence Hartung, Miss Marjorie Gardner, Miss Janet Gemmill, Miss Hazel Zeigler, Miss Fern Cloak, John and Robert Streeter, Chester Wilson and George McKim.

Warm Battle For League Leadership

Two Teams Are Deadlocked For First Place In Mush-ball League

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 25.—First place in the Ellwood City mushball league is deadlocked, with the Merchants and Mathews fighting for the top berth. Both clubs have won all three games in which they have taken part during the third round. The Merchants, who topped high honors in the second round, are next in the race with two victories.

Plans are now being made to stage a testimonial game for Joe Eckert, league secretary and manager of the Mathews team, who was injured two weeks ago. He was the first and only serious casualty, as his leg was broken and required a week's stay at the local hospital.

A meeting will be held tonight to complete plans for the event. Several other important matters will also be taken up at this meeting.

Find Tarantula Among Bananas

Early this morning while Paul Diano of the Italo Produce Company on Croton avenue was assorting a shipment of bananas which arrived he discovered an odd creature on one of the bunches. Upon closer observation he found it was a tarantula.

The spider which is poisonous and rare measures something like five or six inches in width. Mr. Diano who has been in the produce business for many years states that the spider is the first he has seen in close to 15 years. The tarantula was brought to The News for display.

Firemen To Play Wampum Tonight

It will be a case of call out the fire department for the Wampum team tonight when they clash with the local fire ladders in a game of mushball at the George Washington field at 7 o'clock.

All members of the Firemen's team are requested to be at the field promptly for the contest.

NEW YORK STOCKS

Stock Market Is Firm As New Week Begins

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—With the exception of the Oils, which wobbled on the prospect of a further addition to the burdensome surplus of Crude Oil, the stock market was firm at the beginning of the new week, with most favorites at higher price levels. Business and Industrial news was unchanged over the week-end but Wall Street was cheerful in anticipation of an upturn in important lines after Labor Day.

The market was dull and inactive in the second hour, with speculative trading held back by the coming tripartite holiday. The airplane stocks, under the lead of United Aircraft, pushed ahead to slightly higher price levels.

United Aircraft sold around 64. Up 2 points to the best level in two months. Loews and Radio Keith sold fractionally higher, in the lead of the Amusement stocks, which as a group commanded higher prices. New York Central, led the way for the Rails.

Standard Oil of New Jersey was under pressure and sold down about 2 points at 68 1/2. Atlantic Refining, Sinclair, Mid-Continent and other well-known Oils fell off about a point on the average. National Power and Light corporation received the most attention in the low-priced Utilities and reached slightly higher prices.

Call money renewed at 2 per cent, with funds offered "outside" at 1 1/2 per cent. Cotton advanced a few points in the early trading.

Fight Over Child Takes Another Turn

Mrs. Evelyn McCafferty Given Right To Become A Party Defendant

Petition to intervene as a party defendant was granted to Evelyn McCafferty by Judge Hildebrand this morning in the case of Thomas McCafferty against Mr. and Mrs. W. D. McKnight.

This is a case in which Evelyn and Thomas McCafferty, separated in June, 1930, Mrs. McCafferty placed their one year old daughter, Marian Patricia McCafferty in the hands of Mr. and Mrs. McKnight.

Mr. McCafferty recently sought to secure the child on a writ of habeas corpus. After taking some testimony Judge Hildebrand continued the hearing in the hope that an amicable agreement could be reached between husband and wife as to the custody of the child.

In her petition to intervene as a party defendant, Mrs. McCafferty alleged that her husband is not a fit person to have the custody of the child.

Tourists Home From Europe

Party One Day Behind Bridge Accident In Germany

ALL OF TOURISTS ENJOYED JOURNEY

Most of the Lawrence county party of European tourists who sailed last July 2 for an extensive sojourn through nine different countries abroad, returned over the week end to their homes here in the best of health, according to Mrs. Carrie Jeffers Roberts, who personally escorted the travelers.

Everyone of the 42 tourists with the exception of the Rev. P. E. Stough, pastor of the St. John's Lutheran church, has returned from abroad, and the majority have arrived in the city. Rev. Stough extended his travels into the Holy Land and will not return for at least three weeks.

Mrs. Roberts explained that several of the party left after arrival in New York for a visit to parts elsewhere. Several will not return until next Monday.

Not one mishap occurred to mar the pleasant trip during the weeks they were gone, although the group did have one or two thrilling experiences. One disaster in Germany which occurred preceding their arrival may have meant death to several had they been at the place sooner.

MORE

It was at the point where the Moselle river joins the Rhine at Coblenz that the dreadful occurrence took place. A bridge on which the sight-seers gather to peer at the scenic beauty along the river crashed one day before the local party arrived, killing 52 travelers and injuring many more. Most of those were travelers from Europe, although one Akron youngster was reported to have been drowned.

Neither the trip going nor on the return furnished any exciting thrills for the party, the sea being most calm during the voyage both ways. Going over the fog did make it a bit nasty but it cleared up before long.

Mrs. Roberts said that several of the tourists celebrated birthdays on the trip, while one observed his coming of age.

Countries visited during the trip included Scotland, England, Holland, France, Belgium, Germany, Italy, Austria and Switzerland. The party also attended a showing of the Oberammergau passion play.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Glass of Clarkburg, W. Va., are guests of Mrs. J. H. Preston of Highland avenue.

You're the JUDGE The Decision

The court held for Smith. The judges here seem to be whether Smith should assign the judgment first or whether Brown should pay the money first. The fact is, both should be done at the same time. Brown should tender the money on condition that he get the assignment. But Brown did not tender the money. Therefore, Smith can recover.

Now we'll have another sport-page feature describing the technique of knocking the little ball through the hollow log.

Blanchard Bomb Damages Home In Rankin District

Six Families Flee To Streets As Bomb Explodes With Terrific Din

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Aug. 25.—Exploding with a terrific roar that rocked the entire community, a blackhand bomb early today destroyed two dwellings in Rankin, sent six families fleeing to the street, and caused serious injury to a man and a boy.

The injured are Samuel Mazzarelli, 35, and his nephew, Frank Rossi, 16, both of Rankin. They were rushed to Braddock General Hospital suffering severe body burns.

Bombing of the Mazzarelli home, police believe, was because of Mazzarelli's non-compliance with a demand for $500 contained in a blackhand letter he received several weeks ago.

Walls of the Mazzarelli dwelling and a nearby home crumpled inward under the force of the blast. Fire that followed the explosion swept through the homes, razing both and causing six families, who occupied the structures, to flee for safety.

Police immediately began an investigation to determine not only the perpetrator of the bomb outrage but also to find the author of the blackhand letter that preceded it.
